

History Alive! The Story of Sacajawea

Saturday, January 20th, 1:00 p.m.

Mountains Branch Library Community Room

Sacagawea, the young Native American woman who accompanied Lewis and Clark on their journey west in 1805, has inspired countless myths and legends.

Presenter Mary Dailey will portray this remarkable woman's story in costume, sharing many unknown details of Sacagawea's journey.

This program is part of the History Alive! Program, made possible by the West Virginia Humanities Council and West Virginia State Parks programming services.
